

Building Vocabulary through Word Parts

Instructions: Circle the correct option (A, B, or C).

Question 1: What does the prefix "poly-" typically mean when added to a word?

- A) Many or much
- B) Against or opposed to
- C) Below or beneath

Question 2: In the word "benevolent," what does the suffix "-ent" indicate?

- A) The act of
- B) Possessing a certain quality
- C) Pertaining to a person

Question 3: What is the function of the suffix "-phobia" in words like "claustrophobia" or "acrophobia"?

- A) The study or science of
- B) Fear or aversion
- C) One who specializes in

Question 4: In the word "telecommunication," what does the prefix "tele-" mean?

- A) Between or among
- B) Distant or far
- C) To make or do

Question 5: What does the prefix "hypo-" mean when added to a word?

- A) Above or beyond
- B) Under or beneath
- C) Many or more than one

Question 6: What is the meaning of the prefix "circum-" in words like "circumnavigate" or "circumvent"?

- A) To go around or encircle
- B) To cut or separate

- C) To change or transform

Question 7: In the word "neurology," what does the suffix "-logy" typically mean?

- A) The act of
- B) The study of or science of
- C) A person who specializes in Question 8: What is the function of the prefix "pro-" in the word "proactive"?

- A) To indicate a person who performs the action
- B) To show a condition or quality
- C) To indicate opposition or against

Question 9: What does the prefix "post-" typically mean when added to a word?

- A) Before or in advance
- B) After or behind
- C) To go around or encircle

Question 10: In the word "indomitable," what does the prefix "in-" indicate?

- A) To make or do
- B) Not or without
- C) Many or much