

Functional English Informative Presentation

Name: _____

Student ID: _____

Section: _____

Topic: _____

Team members: Name Roll. No.

	0-0.5	1	1.5-2
Topic
Topic Selection	Topic was not appropriate for the audience as they learned little. The ideas were too commonplace and did not reflect critical thinking on the speaker's part.	The selected topic lacks focus, it is appropriate for the give audience as they learned some new things.	Challenging academic topic that required significant research/ critical thinking on part of the speaker. The audience genuinely learned new things from the speech, and they were challenged to think critically.
Introduction
Attention	No attempt to gain attention was made	Attempt to arouse attention was made.	Creative and/or unique attempt at arousing the attention of this specific was made
Relevance	No attempt to relate the topic directly to the audience was made.	A token attempt to relate the topic directly to the audience was made. "How many of you drive a car?"	The topic was clearly and comprehensively related directly to the audience. The audience was told exactly why they need or want to know this information.
Thesis/	Main ideas / preview of the speech was not presented.	Thesis was clearly stated OR preview material was presented.	Thesis was clearly stated AND preview material was presented.
Speech Development
Content X2	Demonstrates limited understanding of the topic and the given argument is not logical and lacks conviction	Shows moderate evidence of understanding the topic. The presented logic related to the topic was plausible but require more clarity.	Speech on the selected topic is focused and relevant. It is convincing and shows strong understanding of the topic. Ideas have been discussed in detail.
Organization	No organizational strategy apparent which made it difficult to follow the speakers' ideas.	An organizational strategy was apparent, but was not appropriate to the material, or it was not maintained.	An appropriate organizational strategy was apparent and maintained throughout the speech.
Logical Appeal	Lack of logical development of ideas and the speech is full of major errors in reasoning.	Logical development of ideas but 1-2 errors have been made in the established reasoning.	Logical development of ideas from the start of the speech till the end through effective reasoning.
Topic Development & Support x2	Provided irrelevant or no support. Explanations of concepts are inaccurate or incomplete.	Support is relevant, but not organized/coherent. 1-2 ideas require more development. Needed to elaborate further with explanations, examples, descriptions, etc.	Topic development reflects knowledge and understanding of the topic. Main points adequately substantiated with timely, relevant, and sufficient support. All points were supported with a variety of relevant research.
Research & Verbal Citations	The speech lacks the relevant research. The supporting ideas are based on the speaker's speculation and reflect their bias about the selected topic. No attempt	The speech lacks in-depth research as all the main points are not adequately supported through relevant supporting details, evidence and examples. Most	Aspects in the speech are well researched reflected through the use if appropriate verbal citations used for every point in the speech.

	is made to establish credibility and authority of sources presented.	sources are clearly cited but fails to effectively establish credibility and authority of sources presented.	Establishes credibility and authority of sources presented using relevant details.
Conclusion
Signaled ending	No attempt to signal the ending was made.	Transition to conclusion was made, but it was abrupt or rushed.	A measured and natural transition to the conclusion was performed.
Summary & Clincher	Thesis was not restated and call to action was missing. The speech ended abruptly.	Thesis and main points were summarized but attention getter was not present or vice versa. Conclusion can be improved.	Thesis and main points were summarized and a practical call to action was provided in a manner that prompted critical thinking after the speech.
Visual Aid
PowerPoint Slides	Designed slides are information heavy, which the audience was not able to read and/or lack relevant graphics.	Slides have minimal information but lack cohesiveness; at times, the information is not readable. Has relevant graphics.	Effective slides have been designed with minimal text and supporting graphics.
Management of Visual Aid	Had trouble managing the slides with the delivery. Practice needed.	Managed the slides but at places there were issues of coherence.	Managed the slides effectively. Slides were in cohesion with the content.
Delivery (Individual evaluation)
Fluency	Speech is not fluent. Noticeable vocalized fillers and repetition of phrases. Lack of preparation or confidence.	Speech is fluent but some pauses are not at the correct places reducing the impressiveness.	Speech was wholly conversational and fluent with pauses at appropriate points making it impressive. No vocalized fillers are present.
Vocal Variety	Speaker uses no vocal variety; speaks in a monotone. Lack of enunciation. Mispronunciations are apparent.	Speech is understandable, but speaker uses too many vocal pauses (uhs or ums); words are used repeatedly (like, you know) words are mispronounced; Lack of enunciation	Speech is delivered in conversational manner with appropriate volume, vocal variety, rate and enunciation. Speech is free of mispronunciations and verbal pauses are not noticeable.
Eye Contact	Speaker could not maintain eye contact with the whole audience. They just looked at a few students or at their notes.	Speaker maintains eye contact throughout speech with a few audience members. Frequently reads from notes/ slides.	Significant and natural eye contact was maintained with the whole audience for the majority of the speech.
Confidence & Attitude	Speaks with little or no enthusiasm, poise and assurance and is not able to engage the audience's interest in the idea.	Speaks with somewhat enthusiasm, poise and assurance. The energy level is low half the points which is not able to engage the audience.	Speaks with enthusiasm, poise and assurance, which keeps the audience engaged.
Posture & Gestures x2	Posture is clearly unprofessional; Lack of supporting gestures or the ones used distract from the speech. Improvement required.	Posture is somewhat professional; minor swaying, rocking etc. Gestures are mostly free from distraction but do not add to the delivery of the speech.	Posture is professional; no swaying, rocking etc. Gestures are purposeful and add to the delivery of the speech. Arm or hand movements are used deliberately to emphasize points.
Attire	The business casual dress code has not been followed.	1-2 errors have been made in following the business casual dress code guidelines.	Looks professional and the business casual attire guidelines have been followed.
Team work
Cohesiveness x3	The members were not able to deliver a cohesive speech	The members presented a somewhat cohesive speech	Extremely cohesive (seamless flow of information) (use of transitional devices to ensure a smooth switch in sections)
Planning x2	Presentation lacked necessary planning	Somewhat planned	Excellent planning
Preparation Roles	weak Members were unsure what part of information were they to resent individually (unsure of the role)	okay They were aware of the roles but still lacked cohesiveness due to confusion	strong Well aware of their roles and carried them out very well
Time Limit	Speaker took [+/-] 1 to 2 min of the given time	The speaker took [+/-] 30 seconds of the given time.	The speaker completed their speech in 3:00 min.

Total: /60

Comments: